

THE LITTLE MACHINE WITH A BIG IMPACT

It's all well and good having a hundred acres to play with, but if you aren't using the land productively, it's not going to reap much of a reward. For Laura Lloyd, a fantastic little machine from Kanga has revolutionised the way she runs her estate.

"We have been focused on the farm for many years, but Billy began to notice that the woodland needed thinning out. We had two options, to hire in some contractors to come and deal with it – a costly route – or to invest in the machinery to do it ourselves."

Having returned from the APF show with his heart set on a Kanga 'Kid', Billy persuaded Laura into buying the piece of kit. She says:

"We were so impressed with the machine. It enabled us to deal with the wood quickly and with minimum effort. However we soon required something with more horsepower, so we part exchanged the Kid and upgraded to a new series 7 machine with a few different heads."

Billy has since been extracting the wood – 80 cubic meters in their first year – and are now supplying Forestry Commission approved quality seasoned hardwood logs and kindling to our local area.

Keeping busy with his Kanga, Billy has also been doing clearance work, trenching for water piping and electric cables, lake fencing and rotoation in the Bedfordshire, Buckinghamshire and Essex areas. He tells me:

"There have been a lot of problems with otters killing the carp in local fishing lakes. The Kanga has enabled me to dig a foot down to install otter-proof fencing around these areas – and I have also been doing fencing around allotments and vegetable gardens."

Laura concludes: "We're about making the most of the estate whilst preserving its beauty and keeping it economically viable. Our Kanga has made it possible to offer our community high quality firewood and other services and we couldn't be more pleased with it."
